

I do not give my permission to anyone to violate the peace and sanctity of my personal time. By enabling loopholes in the "Do Not Call" list, you will be denying me my choice to not have my privacy interrupted by commercial organizations whose sole interest is in selling me something. When someone offers to give me free telephone service if I agree to accept commercial solicitations, similar to what currently exists with broadcast television, I will refuse them.

I pay a healthy monthly fee for the use of my telephone service, and I do NOT believe that ANYONE should be allowed to use a service that I have by necessity as a weapon against me for commercial gain.
